The Hornell FRC is guided by these principles: All families are welcomed. All parents and caregivers can benefit from information and support. Great parents are made, not born. Early childhood development is critical for life-long health and school success. Parents are recognized as their child's first teachers and their continued involvement in their child's education is vital.
	Children don't come with instruction books, but we can help! Join other parents, grandparents, and caregivers and tackle some of the big issues we face raising our children into adults. Some of the classes offered include Flip It * Parenting with Heart * Dads Matter * * Grandparent Support Group * Teens and more! <h2>Parenting Education</h2> Beginning in October
	Children learn through play. Exploring and investigating the world around them helps children learn to solve problems. At the Center, children engage in activities that promote gross and fine motor skill development and increase their attention span and memory. Play improves children's social skills, encourages them to take turns, and cooperate with one another. Play today! <h2>Drop in & Play</h2>
	The Hornell FRC is your link to community - based resources and support. Strong, healthy families make strong, healthy communities.
