

Home Visitor Positions – Pro Action’s Resilient Children and Families Programs:

Pro Action is seeking three compassionate, self-motivated individuals to provide Home Visiting services to families. Two Home Visitors will work with families with children from birth to 5; one will work with families with school aged children at risk of early involvement in the juvenile justice system.

Home Visitors work with families to increase their strengths and resilience and help parents promote their child’s healthy development by providing direct support services including the assessment of family strengths, needs and progress; screening and assessment of children; assisting with identification and completion of family goals; helping families access other resources; and providing 1:1 parent education and advocacy. Home Visitors will coordinate services delivered by partnering agencies.

A Home-based CDA, Family Development or comparable credential is preferred at hire. Equivalent coursework as part of a degree in early childhood education, social work, human services, family services, or a related field may be considered. A minimum of three years’ experience with home visiting / working with families and knowledge of Steuben County community resources / support services are preferred. Must have excellent organizational, computer, communication and time management skills. Must have a driver’s license meeting agency standards and consistent, reliable transportation.
